

Book Exchange

As in many villages Widford PC has converted our now redundant telephone box into a Book Exchange ,giving a new lease of life to an icon regarded by many with great affection .As from this week it is up and running and villagers are invited to borrow and swap books ,in good condition ,that they think others would enjoy.

We have a great selection of books at the moment with some in reserve and although we are very grateful for all the donations we have received ,could I ask people ,for the time being ,not to put any more in the box .We will always need new material in order to keep our selection fresh so please hang on to any books you want to donate because they will be needed at a later date .I will let you know when the time comes.This is a bit of an experiment and everyone using the exchange can play a part in keeping it in good order and making it a success.

We do ask users to observe the now usual Covid guide lines -

- 1) Please avoid using the Exchange if you have Covid symptoms
- 2) Use hand sanitizer before and after visits to the Exchange
- 3) Please handle as few books as possible
- 4) Use a face covering inside the box

We must remember that public libraries still remain much loved and essential parts of our towns but in these strange times we hope our small Book Exchange will be useful to those unable to get to them or don't feel confident to use them just at present .Please enjoy our new village amenity.
